Heir to Fortune

2½-Year-Old Boy Kidnaped June 14

MONTREAL (UPI) — Joel Reitman, 2½-year-old heir to a woman's retail clothing chain fortune, was kidnaped Saturday and is being held for $10,000 ransom, police disclosed today.

The husky good-looking youngster, the only child of Dorothy, 25, and Cyril Reitman, 29, disappeared Saturday evening with his maid, Miss Greta Goede.

MRS. REITMAN, under doctor's care at her home in the suburban town of Mount Royal urged the kidnapers in a tape-recorded plea to leave Joel in any church or public building.

The ransom money, $10,000 in unmarked $20 and $50 bills, was deposited in a downtown hiding place as instructed in the ransom note. Police said, however, that as of noon today the money had not yet been picked up.

No. 13 Proves to Be Unlucky For Miss Palm Springs

By FRED C. WEIGEL

No. 13, the proverbial bad luck number, proved to be just that Saturday night when Darlene Daye—Miss Palm Springs contestant—lost the title of Miss California to some 20 other girls at Anaheim.

Miss Daye, whose flashing red hair and winsome smile carried her through the first elimination contest in the city made famous by Walt Disney, lost in the finals held at Los Palms Stadium under the sponsorship of the Anaheim Junior Chamber of Commerce.

MISS SAN FERNANDO—Donna Kay Brooks, 18, was chosen winner of the Miss California title with some 400 people watching the pageant.

Members of the Anaheim JayCees were heartbroken over the attendance, which they expected to be 20 times better, and the initial investment of $3,500 will be a debt on their books for some time to come.

The outside contest, held on a beautiful stage built of satin drapes and live gardenias, was spoiled by a light fog which enveloped the area about the time the contest got under way.

DURING THE DAY, however, the opposite was true. A warm sun fell on the stage and the steel bleachers and during the elimination contest one girl became ill from the heat.

Richard Russell, exclusive franchise holder for the States of California and Nevada for the Miss Universe Pageant, also was very disappointed in the turnout at the California state finals.

THE NUMBER OF contestants were held down by the Miss California Committee, but 19 girls vied for the title and represented the cities of Anaheim, Apple Valley, Costa Mesa, Culver City, Glendale, Glendora, Inglewood, La Habra, Lakewood, Los Angeles, Lomita, Newport, Pasadena, Rosemead, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Francisco, San Fernando, Torrance and Palm Springs.

A possibility exists that Palm Springs might become the stage for the annual Miss California Pageant. Committee members believe that Palm Springs would not only benefit from the "extended season" aspect of the pageant, but also would benefit greatly by the publicity and promotion that could follow in the wake of the state's biggest local beauty pageant.

Krysiak Enters Guilty Plea to 'Disturbing Peace'

On a charge reduced from attempted burglary to disturbance of the peace, industrial developer and builder John Krysiak entered a plea of guilty this morning before Judicial District Judge Eugene Theriault.

Krysiak was arrested Sunday when police caught him trying to break into a home at 566 Calle Ajo.

Officers were summoned to the scene by Mrs. Ida Beard, resident of the home which is located just in front of the Krysiak home at 566 Calle Ajo, and they found him standing beside a window of the home. When police turned a spotlight on him, he fled from the scene.

Investigators found a hammer and screwdriver on the ground near the window.

Arrested a short time later at his home, he was reported to have been drinking.

Judge Theriault sentenced Krysiak to 20 days in the county jail—suspended, directed him to join Alcoholics Anonymous, and fined him $50. He is to report monthly to the judge.

$650,000 Hospital Budget Set

Shows Increase Of $85,000; Tax May Go Down

A budget of $650,000 for the fiscal 1957-58 year, was approved yesterday by the board of directors of the Desert Hospital District, an increase of $85,000 over last year's appropriation.

The increase was reflected in a $60,000 increase for the following capital improvements: Building and grounds, $15,000; furniture and fixtures, $25,000; and $20,000 for excess expenses over income.

THE TAX STRUCTURE in the Desert Hospital is set up under two tax levies, one for maintenance and operation and the other for paying off the bonds used for both the original construction and the construction of the new wing.

The tax rate last year was 17 cents per $100 assessed valuation, including .006 cents to pay off the bond issues.

IN CONSIDERING the possible tax rate for the coming year, Hospital Administrator Robert Henwood said that he believes that with the possible increase in assessed valuation the tax rate should go down.

Henwood pointed out that the addition of the new wing, which provided an increase of 38 beds for the hospital, was responsible for the budget increase, but added "the new wing has been open only since November and we have no idea of what a complete year of operation will mean in dollars. All we can do is estimate the cost of all facets of the operation including a completely new nursing staff."

THE BOARD OF directors also re-appointed the medical staff to the hospital, which this year totals 29 medical doctors and four dentists.

The resignation of the active staff as the "attending staff" and of the courtesy staff as the "associate staff" was adopted by the directors at the meeting.

Indian Land

Court Approval Asked for Lease

A petition was filed in Superior Court today asking for court approval of a lease on five acres of land at the corner of South Palm Canyon Drive and Ramon Road, across from DeMuth Park and next to Ladd Hardware.

The petition was filed on behalf of Zachary Pitts by Palm Springs attorney Roy Colegate, who is asking for a 25 year lease with a 25 year option at an alternate rental of $225,000.

ATTORNEY FOR THE estate, representing executors Harry Hopkins and Arthur Greenfield, is Indian attorney Richard Marsh.

According to Marsh, the petitioners plan to construct not less than a $100,000 building on the five-acre site.

Adams Admits 'Lesson Learned' on Personal Calls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams said today he and his White House associates have now concluded they ought not to make personal calls like those he made to the Federal Trade Commission for his friend Bernard Goldfine.

"I think there are some lessons we all learn, no matter how far along we get," Adams said.

HE MADE THIS statement to House investigators inquiring into his relations with Goldfine, who pressed favors on Adams while in hot water with government agencies. The presidential assistant testified before a standing room only audience.

Adams, while defending his actions in the Goldfine case, testified he might not have done what he did for his friend had he known—as he was told today—that his action was improper.

ADAMS INSISTED throughout his appearance before the House influence—investigating subcommittee—that there was nothing whatever wrong with his acceptance of Goldfine of such favors as free hotel rooms, a loan of a rug, and a coat.

He made the same assertions about the inquiries he made in Goldfine's behalf to the Federal Trade Commission.

HOWEVER, UNDER questioning by Subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.), he conceded such calls raised difficult problems. In some cases, he agreed, an agency official might get a faulty impression as to what is desired.

"Don't ask me to date this, as it would be very difficult to do so," he told Harris, "but I have come to believe—I have consulted with my associates and we have come to believe—that what you have described is something that very likely ought to be avoided."

ADAMS SAID THEY reached this conclusion because "there are implications there and I am very frank to say so."

He said "It is the nature of the system . . . that these matters do occur and that they are subject to this interpretation . . . and to the implication that the results perhaps are tempered by these requests."

Harris asked Adams if he ever had made an inquiry in behalf of persons involved in tax troubles. Adams said he had not and that so far as he knew nobody on his staff had done so.

UNDER SUBCOMMITTEE questioning, Adams denied that:

—He received from Goldfine any furniture besides the rug.

—He and Goldfine made "shopping trips" to the Jordan & Marsh department store in Boston.

—He used a Goldfine company airline credit card.

—His "superior in the White House" received a vicuna coat from Goldfine.

REP. JOHN E. MOSS (D-Calif.) interjected the first open political note into the hearing. He called that he "went through the campaign of 1952 under the whiplash" of Republican critics of "errors in judgement" in the Truman administration.

"I share the feelings of a great deal of my colleagues of the House," he said grimly. "We must apply at all times the same rules."

Subcommittee counsel Robert W. Lishman told the presidential aid that Goldfine "did get preferred treatment" as a result of Adams' action.

Lishman said that after Adams' inquiry into Goldfine's troubles with the FTC, the industrialist got information which both the law and FTC rules required to be kept confidential.

BUS FIRE KILLS 12 MEXICAN NATIONALS TODAY

SOLEDAD, Calif. (UPI) — Twelve Mexican nationals were killed today when fire broke out in the makeshift bus that was being used to take 50 farm workers from a labor camp to their jobs.

Another 15 were reported injured badly enough to require treatment at hospitals.

First reports from the scene indicated that a cigarette was accidentally dropped into a can of gasoline in the back of the vehicle where the 50 were riding to work about 6:45 a.m., p.d.t.

The bus, which had been converted from a truck by addition of wooden sides and a metal top, started to burn and the occupants panicked.

However, the only two exits, both at the rear of the truck were chained for safety reasons and the deaths and injuries resulted from both flames and in the stampede for safety.

The truck was only about one block from the labor camp when the fire broke out.

Soledad is 25 miles southeast of Salinas in Monterey County.

Two Youths Escape Serious Injury in Accident

Two Palm Springs youths escaped serious injury yesterday in an automobile accident when the car in which they were driving either had a blowout or the driver went to sleep, and ran off the freeway near Pomona.

Gary Eastin, 17, Palm Springs High School junior, and Neil Williams, 17, San Diego Military School, both received cuts but were released from Pomona Valley Hospital yesterday.

The car practically demolished after its plunge over a 20-foot freeway embankment.

Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Eastin of 515 South Calle Santa Rosa, and Neil is the son of Mrs. Burnham Williams, 2475 Cahulla Hills.

The two boys were returning from a visit in Whittier when the accident occurred between 1:30 and 2 a.m.

Dulles Tells Stand at News Meet

Declines to Spell Out Conditions For Intervention

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States might send troops into Lebanon if developments there should call for it.

He told a news conference the U. S. was prepared to contribute to a United Nations force, there but also might act on its own if certain contingencies, which he declined to explain, should arise.

AT THE SAME time, Dulles charged the Soviet Union with apparently trying to break off preparations for a carefully organized summit conference and force the West directly into a top level meeting on the Kremlin's terms.

Dulles asserted that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev apparently has adopted the brutal terrorist methods of the late Josef Stalin which he once denounced. That was Dulles' reaction to the news that the Communists have executed former Premier Imre Nagy and other freedom fighters who led the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

THE SECRETARY said the situation in Lebanon is a matter of considerable anxiety to the U. S., which has special interest in affairs in that area because the so-called Eisenhower Middle East Doctrine.

He said that the trouble in Lebanon, which appeared to be at least partly civil in character, was well within the competence of the U. N. because it is empowered to step into such disputes when they threaten the peace of the area.

THE U.S. IS WATCHING the situation closely, Dulles said, and he knows that the American 6th Fleet in the Eastern Mediterranean has Marine landing parties which could go ashore in Lebanon if they were so ordered.

If U. N. Secretary-general Dag Hammarskjold, now en route to strife-torn Lebanon, decides that U. N. forces there should be beefed up, Dulles said the U. S. would be disposed to support that action by making any contribution of troops called for.

Ex-Premier Nagy, Revolt Leader Are Executed

BUDAPEST (UPI) — Former Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy, a liberal Communist who led the October 1956 revolt against the Soviet Union, has been executed for high treason, the government announced today.

Executed with him were Gen. Pal Maleter, leader of the revolutionary military forces which held out for days against Soviet troops and armor, and journalists Miklos Gimes and Jozsef Szilagyi whose writing helped raise what the government called "the pirate flag of national Communism."

Five other identified by the Hungarian justice department as leading figures in the "anti-state conspiracy" were imprisoned for terms ranging from life to five years.

Poolside Bar-B-Q to Be Inaugurated At Howard Manor on Wednesday

A weekly "Poolside Barbecue Under the Stars" will burst upon the desert scene starting Wednesday at 7 p. m. when Palm Springs Howard Manor inaugurates dining and dancing under the stars in the jewel-like atmosphere surrounding its mammoth swimming pool.

The event will mark the debut of the "Jack Dempsey Heavyweight Special." The king-sized chopped sirloin, which will be served on a plank, will also have a lightweight version for the small fry. It will head up a varied menu including such barbecue favorites as shish kebab, steaks and spare-ribs.

The succulent dishes will be prepared within sight of the diners at the Manor's outdoor pit barbecue. Waiters will do the serving at tables set amidst the hotel's aura of colonial charm.

There will be dancing under the stars to the music of the Frank Grace Trio during and after dinner and the Grace group will also furnish instrumentals and vocals designed for listening pleasure.

part for the small fry, will be world premiered at the desert spa's opening "Poolside Barbecue Under the Stars" Wednesday, June 18 at 7 p. m. (Paul Pospesil Photo).

County Heart Association Officially Refuses Palm Springs United Fund Check

The Riverside County Heart Association today officially refused a Palm Springs United Fund check for $741.25 and expressed strong objection to the unauthorized inclusion of the Heart Association in the recent federated campaign.

In returning the check, Dr. Edward Zeman, president of the Heart Association, said that the United Fund had not acted in good faith when it included the "Heart" Association and that its offer of money was a "deliberate effort to mislead and confuse the public into believing that their contributions would go toward the support of the Heart Association program."

DR. ZEMAN SAID that it was impossible for the Heart Association to accept the check because its fund-raising policy and its charter specifically forbid participation in a United Fund. To accept the check would be interpreted as participation, he said.

In a letter that accompanied the returned check, Dr. Zeman expressed surprise that the money was sent in view of the fact that officials of the Heart Association had since Sept. 23, 1957, publicly and in correspondence and meetings with the United Fund officials repeatedly stated its position, the United Fund nevertheless went ahead and included the Heart Association in its campaign.

In a statement issued in conjunction with the release of his letter, Dr. Zeman declared that the "arbitrary action of the United Fund" in including the Heart Association could only be viewed as "a deliberate effort to weaken the Heart program and coerce the Heart Association to participate in the United Fund in violation of its policy."

"IN VIEW OF THESE circumstances we are forced to conclude that the Palm Springs United Fund's offer of this check is not made in good faith, but rather to confuse the public and lead them to believe the Heart Association does not need the money, when the check is returned.

"We believe it is our responsibility to make a public statement

Check List for Furniture Buying

CHICAGO — One of the world's largest furniture manufacturers says there are four major considerations to look for before buying upholstered furniture. Kroehler Manufacturing Co. said the buyer should check on the construction of the frame, the wire used in padding springs, the fabric and the comfort of each piece of furniture.

The experts say hardwood frames are more durable in furniture and for added wear should be both glued and bolted together. They say the wire used to make furniture springs is also important in the choice of a sofa, chair, or upholstered occasional piece.

They point out that soft wire will give a good appearance to the furniture for a short time, but it will not keep its shape. Only steel wire can be expected to retain long-time comfort and appearance.

What the eye can see—the covering material—is also important, say the experts. They say that since the furniture's "outer skin" is exposed to the most abuse, a buyer should make sure the material has been quality tested before buying.

But they warn that each family has its individual requirements that their furnishings must answer. So the experts recommend careful testing in the store to make sure the furniture is the right size for the family.

LA JOLLA CLIFFS CHAPEL was the scene of the wedding of Valerie Anne Wagner and Daniel Tilman Carty. The bride is the daughter of the Robert E. Wagners of Rancho Mirage, and is a graduate of Palm Springs High School.

Carty-Wagner Wedding Vows Said in LaJolla

Valerie Anne Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wagner of Rancho Mirage, became the bride of Daniel Tilman Carty, son of Mrs. Jone C. Carty of Corona, June 9 in the La Jolla Cliffs Chapel at La Jolla.

Chaplain Charles E. Sydnor, U.S.N.R. (Ret.) performed the ceremony before a gathering of immediate family members.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a ballerina-length gown of emerald white nylon organdy over seafoam green tulle. Her shoulder length veil fell from a crown of nylon net sprinkled with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible covered with stephanotis holding streamers of white ribbon and fern.

Serving the bride as maid of honor was Sue Nelson, niece of the bridegroom. She wore a ballerina-length dress of summery pink organza and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and pink roses. Kenneth Wagner, brother of the bride, was best man.

Following the wedding a breakfast was served in the Marine Room of the La Jolla Beach and Tennis Club and featured a beautifully decorated tiered wedding cake.

Valerie graduated from Palm Springs High School and both she and her new husband have been attending the University of California, Riverside campus.

The young couple left on a week's honeymoon and upon their return will reside in Riverside and continue their studies at U.C.R.

Honor Rating

Oil Helps Silk Make Comeback

The Chinese, who were the first to discover how to make silk, didn't permit foreigners for over 20 centuries to learn the secrets of silk culture. There is no record that anybody could get a silkworm out of the country until 536 A.D., when two Persian monks smuggled some silkworm eggs and mulberry leaves into their hollow bamboo traveling staves and brought them to Constantinople.

The conquering Venetians brought the industry from Constantinople to Europe in the Twelfth Century, and silk became the rage. England's Queen Elizabeth I is said to have owned 3,000 silk dresses, and was the first woman to wear silk stockings, laboriously knitted by hand.

Silk became the symbol of luxury, prized for its softness, its luster, and the genteel rustling sound it gave to the skirts of stylish women. By the late 1820's, we Americans alone were using more than half a million bales of silk every year for clothing, lingerie, and stockings.

While the introduction of man-made nylon twenty years ago put the silk stocking out of the running, oil is now helping silk make a big comeback. Blending silk with oil-derived fibers such as "Dacron" adds to its natural wearing qualities, and experiments are now under way to improve its wrinkle-resistance through the use of oil-based resins.

Vacationing In Wyoming

Clowns Add Birthday Party Fun

Clowns cavorted and guests had a wonderful time when pretty little four-year-old Dottie Norton, daughter of Mrs. Gloria Norton, celebrated her fourth birthday Sunday afternoon at the family home at 1675 South Calle Marcus.

Pink and white was the color scheme for the attractively decorated party room with one wall of the room completely covered in vari-colored balloons.

Highlight of the party were the two live clowns, enacted by Denny Hicks and Victor Pine, who kept the children entertained with their pranks and party games which included an outdoor croquet game.

The little guests were presented various party favors and were served refreshment which included a beautifully decorated birthday cake.

Wishing Dottie "Happy Birthday" were Betsy and Biff Blashek, Carol and Jimmy Oliver, Kathryn and Barbara Jones, Russell Brown, Mrs. Alice Seiler, the party girls grandmother and her great grandmother and grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mason of Santa Monica.

Officer Changes Mark Meeting of Camp Fire Group

Several changes in officers took place when Camp Fire Leaders Association met at the home of Mrs. Lester Selig at 844 Mission Road, with chairman, Mrs. Raymond Baddour, presiding.

Mrs. Duane Beckwith was elected vice chairman. With three resignations received, Miss Angela Brennan as treasurer; Mrs. Frank Hendrickson as publicity, and Mrs. Morris Leonard as secretary, it was decided to hold a general election in January.

Mrs. Richard Dewey was chosen for training chairman, with a committee of Mrs. Pedro Chacon and Mrs. Jackie Moe, and training will be given to all leaders, assistant leaders and interested parents.

Bylaws are to be drawn up and presented for approval. Under consideration is a proposal by Mrs. Paul Payne to change the date of the Grand Council Fire to March to coincide with Birthday Week, and it will be voted on later along with other suggested dates.

These committees will work with the chairman and vice chairman of the organization.

Others present beside those mentioned above were Lymann Bannister, Mrs. Marjorie Morin and Mrs. Lester Hurst.

Student Ambassadors Write Home From National Capital

STUDENT AMBASSADORS from Palm Springs High School are sending back written reports on their experiences in Washington, D.C. The four students, Donivee Ellison, Hazel Micelli, Joe Henderson Jr., and Frank Hilton Jr. made the trip on money they worked all year to raise. They are being chaperoned by Mrs. Joe Henderson.

Report for June 10th
Day of arrival

The Student Ambassadors cannot even begin to thank the people of Palm Springs enough for making it possible for us to enjoy the wonderful experience of visiting our nation's capital. Since our arrival at the Washington, D.C. airport this morning at 6 a.m., we have been busy every minute exploring this wonderful land of American history.

After a sleepless but wonderful and exciting night on the plane we were met at the airport by Mr. and Mrs. C. Ronald Ellis. We then checked in to the YWCA (the boys checked into the YMCA) and within an hour we were ready to embark upon the day's adventures.

Our first stop was the office of Congressman Saund, who was instrumental in launching the Ambassador project and who has assisted us in every way possible in planning our tour. We were then introduced to Mr. Paul Barkla, a member of the Congressman's office, who was to be our guide and chauffeur for the day. By 10:30 we had begun our tour of Capital Hill.

As enthusiastic as we had all been about the sights we had anticipated seeing, we were certainly not prepared for the splendor which met our eyes. Upon entering the great rotunda of the capitol building we found ourselves surrounded by a gallery of gigantic paintings depicting great moments in our nation's history such as "The Surrender of Cornwallis," "Washington Resigning His Army Commission," "The Surrender of General Burgoyne" and "The Presentation of the Declaration of Independence by its Authors." Our guide for the capitol tour, Mrs. Murdock, wife of the late Senator Murdock, explained that these are the four most valuable paintings in the capitol building as they are supposed to be quite accurate in historical detail.

Presently we noticed many people with their heads tilted back looking up into the huge dome. We followed their gaze and we were amazed at what we saw. Inside this dome is a beautiful fresco painting which covers 5000 square feet and has a concavity of 25 feet. This tremendous work of art illustrates events of great significance in American history and is the masterful creation of the Italian artist Brumidi, who died in 1881. The magnificence of this work is so impressive it is impossible for adjectives to describe. The painting seems three dimensional lifelike.

Next we visited the Senate while they were in session. Proxmire of Wisconsin presided in the absence of Nixon, and Flanders of Vermont was speaking as we entered the room. From our seats in the gallery we also recognized the faces of Senator Kennedy of Massachusetts, Senator Knowland of California, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Kuchel of California, and Morse of Oregon, to name only a few.

Leaving the Senate, we next visited the House of Representatives where we listened fascinated as a Congressman discussed a trade bill. We then followed Mrs. Murlock to the small rotunda. Under this room lies the empty tomb that was intended for the body of George Washington and his family, but as they were buried at Mount Vernon, it is now completely empty except for Abraham Lincoln's funeral couch.

Leaving this room we visited the basement which is sort of a small museum which contains many statues and interesting displays. We girls were especially impressed by the statue of Lucretia Mott, Susan B. Anthony and Beth Stanton as these were the women who led the campaign for women suffrage.

The last room we visited was not the most beautiful but was certainly the most interesting. It was used originally for the House of Representatives but now it contains huge statues which repre-

Grows Are in San Francisco

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Grow left Saturday morning for San Francisco, where Dr. Grow will be on the Board of Medical Examiners for the American Board of Ophthalmology examinations to be held June 14-23.

Mrs. Grow who is president of the Animal Protective League will consult with authorities in the SPCA and other humane organizations while in San Francisco and cities en route.

shine brilliantly on the white marble and it is silhouetted dramatically against the horizon.

However, it was the Lincoln Memorial in Potomac Park which almost brought tears to our eyes. The memorial is almost unbelievable in size and consists of a large marble hall enclosing a heroic sized statue of Abraham Lincoln sitting in meditation in a large armchair. On the beautiful marble walls are inscribed the words of the Gettysburg Address and Lincoln's inaugural address. The hall symbolizes not only the greatness of the man and the Union but also the idea of democracy and freedom expressed.

A beautiful, exciting day was brought to a close as we four very happy but also very tired students and our even more tired chaperone, Mrs. Henderson, dined in the Embassy Room of the Statler Hotel where we were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ron Ellis.

We're now back at the "Y" where we should be getting some sleep but as tired as we are it is difficult to sleep for we cannot keep from thinking about the even more exciting days which lie ahead. Thank you again ever so much for helping to make this dream come true. It is an experience that every American should have at some point in his life.

Sincerely,

New Vote-Counting Method Needed

of hours of laborious and time consuming "mental figuring" are saved to business and industry by calculating machines, electronic computers and the mechanical "brain" of Univac, it does seem that the hand method of tallying votes in a major election is needlessly out of date.

While it is true that there are on the average only about two elections a year in which "bed sheet" size ballots are used, it is none the less annoying to the public and a monumental task for the thousands of polling precinct officers to count and tabulate totals. The recent California primary election clearly demonstrated this with some election boards tolling continuously night and day for as much as 48 hours before completing their returns.

This is much too great an imposition upon the individuals who man our polls, as well as far too cumbersome and slow a process in making election results known to the people themselves.

It is reminiscent of the early days of America when precinct reports were often brought in from remote regions on horseback or even afoot and the final count often was not known for days after an election.

A generation or so ago the adoption of "voting machines" in some of the more populous areas was thought to be the solution, but while these are an improvement over the "hand counting" method, the rapid perfection of more modern machines make the old type seem slow and expensive compared to those in general use in business today.

There is no question that with the great advances evidenced in the field of electronics and other scientific achievements in present day high speed counting and recording equipment, a machine could be adapted or devised to count the total ballots rapidly and at the same time be not too expensive or bulky.

Now that public attention has been focused on the need for such an election aid, no doubt numerous ideas will be tested including use of special inks, punches or other methods whereby use of various machines could be readily employed.

Whatever the changes in form or manner of "stamping" it now seems that the present antiquated and extremely slow system of ballot counting is on the way out, and that the next few years will see almost instantaneous reports after closing of the polls on the State and National network flashing "totalized" results in a manner in keeping with other up to the minute developments in our "see and read it now" age.

Since there is nothing more important in a free democracy than whom the people have elected to govern us, from the lowest to the highest office, rapid information on election results is often of paramount interest and importance to everyone.

The Rat and You

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Look to the rat. Early in World War II Dr. Curt Richter, professor of psychology at the Johns Hopkins Medical School and Director of the Psychobiological Laboratory there, was called upon to block a putative enemy plot.

Fearing that the Nazis would attack our cities and farms by germ warfare with rat-borne bacteria, the Office of Scientific Research and Development assigned Dr. Richter, a noted researcher, to learn all he could about poisoning wild rats.

ALTHOUGH THE doctor had worked with domesticated rats for medical experiment, he says that he had seen no more than the average man of the wild variety. But he went to work capturing, killing, studying and operating upon thousands of the wild so-called Norway rats.

And now, something less than two decades later, the doctor who combines single-eyed scientific devotion with a quiet sense of objective humor about the human race, has concluded that people and rats are remarkably alike. He tells me that those of us who write about people should look to the rat for parallel studies.

DOES THIS IDEA offend our human vanity? Well, the wild Norway rat migrated from Europe to North America as we did. Today, in this country, as universally, the Norway rat lives close to man, eats the same foods, establishes similar colonies and maintains about the same birth rate.

A visit to Dr. Richter's laboratory at the Phipps Clinic, Johns Hopkins Hospital, is not a bad place to study contemporary history. Our 20th Century dream of abolishing war? Well, Dr. Richter has a fighting chamber which is an oblong, glass-windowed box with alternate floor-bars that are electrically charged. Two wild rats stimulated by an electrical shock will instantly leap into a death battle.

THEY BLAME the nearest creature—"Yankee, Go Home!"—for the pricks and prods of environmental misfortune. But two domesticated rats (more than 50 generations in captivity of "civilization") do not fight. Instead, they first try to escape; then they learn to avoid the shocks by standing on their hind legs on one or two neutral bars. Is there human hope for world peace in this example?

The most characteristic difference between wild and domesticated rats is in the proficiency of the adrenals and the gonads. In layman's language, the wild rats are better equipped by nature for fighting and the civilized rats for breeding.

THE HUMAN RACE, of course, is not as neatly divided into laboratory cages. Some peoples on all the continents are uncivilized and some over-civilized, and some of the latter are reverting to their former wild state. Moreover, the introduction of preventive medicine in the semi-civilized lands of Asia, Africa and South America has caused a man-made change in the birth rate, and not for the good of the world.

Still, in general, it would seem that the advance of culture takes the hate, fear, fight and suspicion out of people. While the stability of culture makes for loving, family-building and what psychiatrists call "the well-adjusted person."

BUT CIVILIZATION, although relatively comfortable, has its indigenous perils. Rat-study shows that a protected environment makes its creatures become milder, waker, easier to handle, and less concerned with personal liberty. A certain amount of savagery is needed for a people to keep its freedom.

The mutation that a protected environment — a welfare state — performs upon our bodies is a tendency toward rot. The 12 million American suffers from hypertension, rheumatism, arthritis and the like may be the victims of adrenal (fighting) deficiency. Many sufferers from neoplastic (cancer) diseases are victims of overstimulated gonads (reproductive glands), a tendency of stabilized community life.

Perhaps human salvation lies almost entirely with human intelligence. If we can intellectually perceive our future — look to the rat! — we may be able to shape it.

—Holmes Alexander

Dear Abby ..

DEAR ABBY: My husband just loves to fish but I am the one who has to clean them. Whenever we go on a vacation my husband drops me off at the fish house with a mess of fresh-caught fish to clean. I am the only woman in the fish house cleaning fish with a bunch of men and I feel like a darned fool. My husband goes off to the cabin and sleeps. What can I do?

SICK OF FISH
DEAR SICK: Next time your husband sends you to the fish house with a mess of fish, return empty-handed. Tell him you were so distracted by all the "BIG, STRONG, HANDSOME FISHERMEN" in there cleaning fish that you plunk forgot to bring the fish home.

DEAR ABBY: Last week my boyfriend stole my diary right out of my desk drawer. He took it home and his mother found it. It was very personal but there wasn't anything in it that I could be put in jail for. He says his mother doesn't think I am fit company for him now and he has to break up with me. Do you think he is just using that as an excuse or should I find out from his mother if she really saw my diary and ask her what was so bad about it? Please help me. I am very mixed up.

CRAZY MIXED-UP KID
DEAR MIXED: A boy who steals a girl's diary is not exactly choice company, either. Don't check his story with his mother. No matter why he wants to break up with you, let him go. Good riddance!

DEAR ABBY: I almost died laughing when I read in your column that the RED CROSS gave stationery to prisoners in stockade. Abby, are you off your rocker? The RED CROSS never gave away anything. When I was in Service, the only time I saw the RED CROSS is when they came to collect blood. I paid for cigarettes that were plainly marked "GIFT OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS." So, please, check your facts before putting them in the paper.

VET WORLD WAR II
DEAR VET: The RED CROSS does not, and NEVER HAS sold cigarettes. Shipments of cigarettes marked FREE were some times delivered in error to Post Exchanges and sold to servicemen. Also Red Cross supplies have been high-jacked, stolen and sold on the black market through no fault of the RED CROSS. These are the facts. Checked and double-checked.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BEEBEE:
To date there has been no successful vaccine developed to combat the love-bug. Simmer down!

For a personal reply, write to ABBY, in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Now—The Big Climb

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Bumper to bumper
Along we will go
As all but our streets
Continue to grow.

With the exception of the widening and paving of Indian Ave., widening of South Palm Canyon Drive and the extension of Sunrise Way south to hook up with Highway 111, the same street pattern which took care of our needs two decades ago is asked to handle today's volume of traffic.

AT THAT TIME the population was less than 3,000. It has quadrupled since then and the number of automobiles using the streets has increased many times that ratio.

When the city was first mapped around 60 years ago, the developers planned for four north and south streets between Alejo and Ramon Roads. Only two of them made it and at first, only one of them was really adequate.

CITY COUNCIL tonight is slated to look into a report from Frank Hammerschlag, director of public works, on the street needs of Palm Springs.

And the needs are many. At the rate the city is growing, Hammerschlag estimates we'll need four more north and south arteries, three primary east-west streets and additional secondary east-west streets.

THAT WILL BE within the next ten years, he says. That's for sure.

Palm Springs is growing at a tremendous rate and civic leaders and council have been working might and main to take care of the many problems arising as a result.

But the biggest problem is still ahead—sufficient streets to handle the ever-growing volume of traffic.

And, by the way, when they put in more streets, how about that third crossing over Tahquitz channel?

The area south of there is booming and it looks to me as if two crossings aren't going to be enough to handle the traffic.

THERE MAY BE a recession of sorts in progress but you'd never know it at Hollywood Park.

Being just a modest, scared $2 better, I find that I always have plenty of room in the lines before the $2 windows. We're in the minority.

The lines before the $5 and $10 windows stretch clear across the room.

WHICH REMINDS ME of a little sermon packed up in four lines of type which I read in London Tid-Bits:

"People who can afford to gamble don't need money and those who need money can't afford to gamble."

With the three-day Fourth of July holiday coming up, this from a New York trade paper is also timely:

"A 'dangerous when wet' sign should be hung on every driver who drinks."

In California, our signs say "slippery when wet." Same thing.

Lester D. Klimmer says that right about now the annual crop of graduates is seeking positions—and accepting jobs.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

Up in the warm Honolulu morning to catch Pan American's rocket to the mainland.

The mynah birds were chattering away outside the window at the Royal Hawaiian. And some fat white clouds were floating off Waikiki. There was a fresh flowery fragrance in the air.

I like to weep at weddings and when leaving Hawaii. Aloha!

DOWN AT THE airport, all the islanders heading for the outer islands were having their pictures taken alongside the big double-deck Boeing. (Why fill your scrapbook with a little DC-3 when such an enormous plane is right there for background?)

The loudspeaker was playing, "When It's Nighttime in Hawaii." And there was a rich smell of jasmine from all the tourist leis.

I swore to the Agriculture man that I was not carrying fruits, nuts or plant life. Aloha!

NOWADAYS WE span the Pacific as casually as we take the morning bus from the suburbs. A long line of young Air Force men were filing aboard a Flying Tigers Constellation. I imagine not one of them ever heard of a Short Snorter.

WE USED TO get a Short Snorter for flying across the ocean. And the way it worked was like this:

You started with a dollar bill. You got one of the bills printed specially for Hawaii during the war—they were brown on the reverse side and overprinted "Hawaii." (I think the idea was that if the islands were captured, we would renig on the payoff.)

YOU WERE INITIATED by a pair of Short Snorter members. You bought them a drink. They signed your bill.

After that, if anyone asked: "Are you a Short Snorter?" you had to produce the bill. Else you had to buy another drink. You were also entitled to initiate other people into the Short Snorters and cadge drinks from them.

It was better than a chain letter if you got in early enough.

AFTER YOU GOT your Short Snorter started, you Scotch-taped other money to the original bill. You taped on Japanese occupation pesos from the Philippines, hand-printed guerrilla bills, Dutch guilders from Hollandia, Australian pounds from Lae.

Some Short Snorters were a yard long.

You got your friends to autograph them. Also famous people. Writer's cramp was a major hazard of generals.

WELL, WE ALL got aboard the plane and climbed up into the blue Hawaiian sky.

I don't think the stewardess ever heard of a Short Snorter either. But she broke out a little champagne and I awarded her a silent membership.

It took me 15 hours in a bucket seat on this same route to get my Short Snorter. Before takeoff, we spent a full day of lectures: "How to take care of yourself for the rest of your life in a life raft."

WHEN I GOT my Short Snorter I felt like an adventurer. But today we only get a short lecture from the stewardess on how to put on a lifejacket and a little pamphlet on "Ditching Procedure."

After that comes the champagne. And in nine hours we landed at San Francisco. Just as casually as it happened all the time every day. Which it does. Aloha.

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Maureen Neuberger, wife of Oregon's Democratic Senator, defending her right to model a bathing suit.

"I am informed by the Department of Commerce that approximately 12 million women's swimming suits were sold during 1957. If it is permissible for all these women to wear bathing suits, then it is equally right for the wife of a Senator to do so. Furthermore, I was modelling a suit made in Oregon."

EARL WILSON:

Success Story

NEW YORK — We were looking for a nice inspirational story about a clean-cut All-American boy and luckily bumped into Paul Newman.

Star of TV, stage, screen, laundries, police courts and Hollywood commissaries, he's another jewel in the crown of the state of Ohio. He boasted to me at lunch that he comes from Cleveland and learned all he knows about acting, and marrying Oscar winners like Joanne Woodward, at Kenyon College, in Gambier, O.

"I did go to Yale for one year," he blushed, guiltily.

"Even Ohioans make mistakes," I tolerantly replied.

Paul — who'd been killing the people in "Long, Hot Summer" while filming "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" at MGM—stabbed some watermelon there at our table in the commissary. It looked so luscious that it was probably flown in from Wapakoneta, O.

"Tell me something inspiring about your college days," I said. "Certainly! Well, I wanted to take temptation out of my way so I entered a non-co-ed school. That attitude lasted 36 hours.

"While there were no co-eds handy, there was a saloon in Gambier named Jean Valdean's and I graduated magnum cum lager."

"You probably had to work your way through?" I said encouragingly. "Another William McKinley-type success story, I'll bet."

"Exactly," smiled he who played Rocky Graziano in "Somebody Up There Likes Me" and a gangster in "The Desperate Hours."

"We ran the student laundry and served free beer right in the place. We occasionally had to put the patrons in the laundry because they were so swacked."

"Very inspiring!" I exclaimed, deciding to change the subject. "Despite your heavy athletic load, you were doubtless in athletics?"

"Till I got kicked off the football team for startin' a little brawl. Some of the boys got thrown in the clink."

"Perhaps," I suggested, hoping to steer the interview back toward the loftier things. "The rigid training regime interfered with your studies which kept you up all night?"

"That wasn't what kept me up all night," he replied in his modest way. "Our team was notoriously non-training and non-scholarship."

"Hm," I said, beginning to wonder whether I was getting quite the proper message from our hero. "You must owe some of your success on Broadway and in Hollywood to your association with the famous Cleveland Playhouse. You did get some of your theater training there, didn't you?"

"Yes," he admitted. "Ahhhh," I poised my pencil tremblingly above my notebook. "What was it?"

"Well," he said, "when I was 11, I was a curtain-puller. But that was as far as it went."

After Yale, Paul came to New York, walked into a great show, "Picnic," met Joanne Woodward, who was an understudy, and married her after getting a divorce. He's been going onward and upward since.

"Anyway," I said, "all you are or ever hope to be you owe to Ohio, right?"

"A small correction," Paul said. "All I am or ever hope to be, I owe in Ohio."

DON'T PRINT THAT! A youthful and popular actor tells friends he's taking acting lessons each afternoon, but he's keeping appointments with a Park Av. psychiatrist. . . . A foreign actor in a B-way show has decided not to return to Europe when the play closes: he doesn't want to face the husband of the girl he's been romancing here.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH . . .

Gen. De Gaulle must have a fine press agent, figures Fred Dodge. He's the first European in years to get more publicity than Gino, Brigitte or Sophia.

WISH I'D SAID THAT . . .

Della Reese claims she saw a really modern TV western — the Indian medicine man was writing out prescriptions.

Producer Ed Montagne of the Sgt. Bilko show is planning a drama about the Revolutionary War. "Change the ending," suggested Mickey Freeman. "Let the British win—and you'll get a tea sponsor." . . . That's earl, brother.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Swan Song?

HOLLYWOOD — Helen Hayes signed to star in her swansong, Eugene O'Neill's "Touch of the Poet." But where have I heard that line about I'm-retiring-from-the-theatre-for-good before?

Miss Hayes hopes to Switzerland after "Time Remembered" folds on Broadway with her daughter-in-law-to-be, Joyce Bulfinch. They'll spend two months in the Swiss mountains while Helen's son, James MacArthur, shoots "Man of the Mountain" for Walt Disney.

ETHEL WATERS is set for the role of "Dilsey" in "The Sound and the Fury" and 20th-Fox is flagging Greer Garson to play Joanne Woodward's mother, same picture.

Phyllis Hudson rejected Rock's settlement terms ($200 a week alimony until she marries, again, Rock to keep their home in the Hollywood hills) and switched attorneys—from Jerry Giesler to Arthur Crowley, the barrister who handled the defendant's end of the Confidential Magazine case.

ROCK'S NEXT picture for Universal will be "Peter the Great" and they're still after Marilyn Monroe to play Catherine . . .

Overheard in the front office at a major studio: "Okay, you're in—your salary raise becomes effective just as soon as YOU do!"

Richard Egan goes right back to work this week for 20th-Fox on location in Durango, Colo., in "These Thousand Hills," after a short honeymoon. The new Mrs. Egan, Patricia Hardy, will be with him throughout the shooting, then the couple will return to Hollywood and live in the same Brentwood apartment with his parent, Gertrude and Willis Egan.

Quite a family, the Egans, and I couldn't help thinking, during the ceremony itself, about how strange it must seem to Rich's parents that their two children should have chosen such divergent and yet such similar paths, since movies CAN be a great cause for good—Willis to the priesthood, a man of the cloth, Rich to the movies, one of the world's most worldly fields.

TV TOPICS — Barbara and Jack Linkletter expect to make Art Linkletter a grandpappy in November . . . The McGuire Sisters are spurring to the front for roles in Joe Pasternak's "Snoh Hill" at MGM . . . Robert Ryan beat Ty Power to the draw and landed "The Great Gatsby." Playhouse '90's last show.

Oscar Levant signed for six guests with Eddie Fisher next season . . . Darren (Mike Hammer) McGavin hosted a "Slappers Party" for the leading ladies he has slapped around on his show, so that they could slap him back, then winged out to the Brussels Fair to join Mitzi Green in "Wonderful Town."

JERRY WALD, just back from his first trip to Eurone, tells me he received a definite promise from Princess Grace of Monaco that she will appear on the Academy Award telecast next March.

Jerry, who will produce the show, also said he has lined up Alec Guinness, Brigitte Bardot, Sophia Loren, Gina Lollobrigida, Anna Magnani and Bill Holden to appear on the next Oscarcast, and Jerry's early-bird tactics should turn up the best show of its kind ever beamed from Hollywood.

CBS-TV'S MR. ADAMS and Eve, the Ida Lupino-Howard Duff co-starrer, is all washed up for next season, hence the Duffs will go their separate ways—Howard to star in The Green Peacock, a mystery series, while Ida devotes her triple-threat talents as writer-director-producer of other properties to be produced by Bridget Films, the Duff's own telefilmery.

Raymond (Perry Mason) Burr tells me he's gripped at all the gripping by-teleseries stars in public places these days. Burr's beef: "Whether to do a series or not to do a series is a big question for an actor. But once an actor does step in as the star of a series, then's the time to button his lip in public and quit complaining about the rigors of working in a series."

Speaking of squawking, a star who recently played Las Vegas confided to his chums how unhappy he was working there "because there's nothing to do except gamble." It prompted this retort from Pearl Bailey: "There's plenty to do in Las Vegas but you have to get out of bed to do it!"

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY, United Press International

TULSA Okla. (UPI) —Tommy Bolt, back home in Oklahoma but still being nagged by the bad breaks of his past, today has golf's greatest prize—and it seemed about time the gallery gave him a helping hand instead of a frustrating foot.

Tommy has always had it tough.

BORN TO A FAMILY of ordinary means, he knew as a boy what it was to work early and late. When he decided he wanted to be a golf professional, Tommy labored as a carpenter to save enough to hit the professional trail.

He went broke and began saving again. Then came the war and he was side-tracked once more. But none of that was as tough as the years since he came marching home from Italy and laid aside his khakis for the slacks and tee-shirt uniform of the fairways. They have, in Tommy's words, been "years of torture."

IT ALL STARTED when he was in the Army in Italy and got away from his outfit to play in a soldier tournament in Rome. Tommy admittedly had a temper—but no worse than that of dozens of other top stars.

He threw a club. That day "terrible tempered Tommy Bolt" was born.

A SPORTSWRITER for Stars and Stripes saw Tommy throw the club. He coined the phrase which in those hectic days, was forgotten before the ink was dry. But later the sportswriter returned home, rejoined his paper—and then remembered when Bolt finally joined the pro brigade about that day in Rome and the alliterative nickname he had coined.

"Terrible tempered Tommy Bolt" was reborn.

Bolt had worked hard to get back on the tour. He went broke in his first try, taught at a driving range to save some more money, and finally made it back to stay. Yet this wasn't the gay, friendly life of which he had dreamed. Actually it became a day-time nightmare.

ALL IT TOOK was a few slips. Tommy made them, and there's no mistake about that. He broke a few clubs here and there; threw others for astounding distances; cursed misfortune with a sailor's frenzied perfection and fought unflinchingly with those he deemed had done him wrong.

Back of all the sound and fury was a naturally gay and friendly guy who would give you the shirt off his back.

BUT EVERYWHERE he went the galleries haunted him with a sadistic refrain to "throw it, Tommy." They didn't come to see his swing but to see him suffer.

Tommy finally has corralled his to-hell-with-it temper, even though, just like any other human being, he fussed at sportswriters at the Open for their typographical needing. In his pocket he carries a card, read daily, which says: "God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can, and the wisdom to know the difference."

Tim Tam Set To Go Under Knife Today

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) —Kentucky Derby champion Tim Tam was scheduled to go under the knife today in an operation on his painful leg injury that was seen having about a 50-50 chance of restoring him to racing.

Dr. Jacques Jenny, associate professor at the University of Pennsylvania's school of veterinary medicine who was to head the team conducting the operation, warned that it was difficult to predict the outcome.

However, Dr. Jenny said he had performed similar operations on about 30 horses and that about half of them returned to the track to race again. He said even if the operation is a success, it would be some time before Tim Tam was able to run again.

Colt Squad Goes to Colton

Palm Springs Colt League team will travel to Colton today to meet the Colton Bankers in a regular Colt League game.

Bouchee Ready

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — First baseman Ed Bouchee, the promising Phillies rookie sidelined to a psychiatric hospital by a brush with the law, sought to return to baseball today, confident he can ignore any diversion from the stands. "Baseball is my life," he said during a workout at Connie Mack Stadium. "I'll take anything to get back into the game."

Scores Monday
Junior Police 14, Cameron Stars 2.
Boys Club 9, Hathaway-Buick 6.

The league-leading Junior Police broke a two game losing streak in Little League action at the Polo Grounds last night and smashed the Cameron Stars 14-2, while the Boys Club turned back the Hathaway-Buick Braves, 9-6.

The Police scored in every inning but the fourth. Their big inning was the third when they scored five runs as Jerry Olivera and Ezell James led the way with timely singles.

THE STARS WERE really never in the game although Paul Payne hit his second home run in the last two games in the sixth frame. There was no one on base at the time.

In the second game the Boys Club scored five runs in the first two innings and then fought off the Braves to post their victory. Lloyd Chaisson, Dave Starich, Jimmy Marinko and Geoffrey Esbitt led the way.

THE HATHAWAY team drew within one run of the lead when they scored three times in the fourth inning on a double by Don Frost.

However, four Boys Club players hit safely in the next inning and put the winners safely out of reach.

One of the largest crowds of the season watched the doubleheader. The line scores:

Dodgers to Try To Leave Cellar In Game Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, their chances of getting out of the National League cellar still hanging like a carrot on a stick, open a three-game series tonight with Philadelphia.

Don Drysdale (3-8) was selected to take the mound for Los Angeles in the first game of a 17-game eastern swing. He faces Philadelphia's Jack Sanford (4-5).

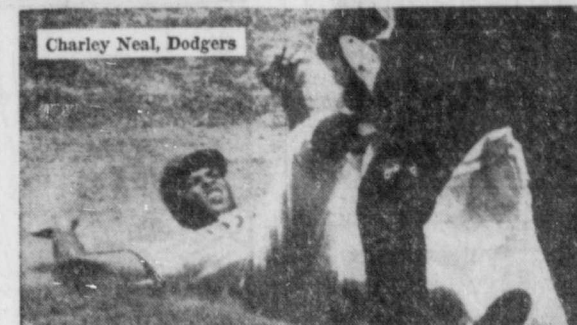

The Dodgers, who marched down the cellar stairs to the basement last May 12, are trailing league-leading Milwaukee by eight games. They are a half game back of seventh-placed Philadelphia.

Two of Drysdale's victories this season have been over the Phils but he has a lifetime record of 5-6 against them.

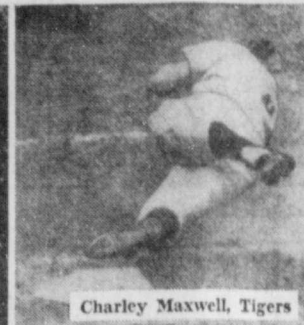

Big Steven Bilko and pitcher Johnny Klippstein, acquired in a trade of Don Newcombe to Cincinnati Sunday night, were scheduled to join the Dodgers tonight.

Softball Action Resumes Tonight

Desert Softball League action will be resumed tonight with M&M-Lehrfield meeting the Palm Desert Junior Chamber of Commerce at 8:15 p.m., at the Polo Grounds.

ENERGETIC CAMERAMAN give you all sorts of slides here as they cover the major league. Sliding into base can and generally does take many forms as you can see by these hit-the-dirt maneuvers. (UPI Telephotos).

Olivera Leads Giants to 9-5 Win Over CVCA

Paced by the hitting and pitching of Gil Olivera the Palm Springs Giants moved to an early lead and then choked off a Coachella Valley Contractor's Association rally to take a 9-5 win in Pony League action at the Polo Grounds Saturday night.

The Giants came back with three runs in both the second and third innings to overcome a one run C.V.C.A. lead. The Contractors had scored one in the first when Paul Tomlinson came across the plate.

OLIVERA HIT a double in the second to spark the Giant rally and then singled in the third. He scored three times in all while holding the Contractors to only six hits in a stellar pitching performance.

Leading player for C.V.C.A. was Henry Heuck who doubled and tripled. The Contractors threatened in the fifth when they scored three times in a surge paced by Gus Walton's triple.

CARLOS REYES had come in to pitch in relief for the losers in the third.

The Giants scored a run in the fourth, one in the fifth and one in the seventh although they only hit safely once in the last four innings.

Cards Keep Pace, But Give Manager Near Heart Failure

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
The St. Louis Cardinals may yet catch the Milwaukee Braves but Manager Fred Hutchinson wishes they'd stop trying to do it the hard way.

A 469 pace since May 7 has brought the Cardinals back from their 3-14 start into a tie for fourth place in the National League. That's the best pace of any NL team over the five-week period but it's been like pulling teeth all the way.

FOR ONE THING, the Cardinals' starting pitchers aren't winning. Only the erratic and surprisingly successful relief work of Morris Martin, Billy Muffet and Phil Payne, 8-2 combined, has saved the staff from buckling altogether.

And, for another, the Cardinals are next-to-last in scoring runs and hitting homers. Yet the team stands 27-27 for the season with no less than 12 of the victories by one-run margins.

THERE WAS MORE of the "heart-stopping" for Hutchinson Monday night when the Cardinals out-scrambled the Cincinnati Redlegs, 6-5, in 11 innings.

Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall carried a 3-1 lead in the ninth but the Cardinals tied it up on pinch-hitter Joe Cunningham's two-run single. Then the Redbirds pushed over three runs in the top of the 11th for an apparently easy victory only to have the Redlegs rally for two in the last of the 11th and force Hutchinson to go to the bullpen for the fourth time of the night.

Eddie Kasko, whose error helped the Redlegs take a 3-1 lead in the sixth, doubled home the final two St. Louis runs in the 11th. Don Blasingame broke the 3-3 tie with a single.

THE REDLEG-Cardinal game was the only one in the majors Monday but the Chicago Cubs got a brilliant performance from their newly signed bonus pitcher Dick Ellsworth in an exhibition game with the Chicago White Sox.

Ellsworth, an 18-year-old left-hander from Fresno High School, pitched a four-hitter. Pinch-hitter Walt Moryn singled home the winning run for the Cubs after they filled the bases on walks to Cal Neeman, Ellsworth and Tony Taylor. Rookie Bob Shaw was the loser.

Elks' Colt Team Routs Acme Nine

Segundo Homers, Gets Credit For 13-5 Win

The Palm Springs Elks' Colt League team continued their winning ways by beating the Acme Engineers in Colton last night, 13-5.

Leroy Segundo hit a home run and Dave Tomlinson got a single, double and triple to pace the winners who scored six runs in the first inning and coasted to victory.

Norm Ruiz also contributed mightily to the win with two singles.

Segundo was the winning pitcher while Ron Bailey and Joe Lewis caught for the Palm Springs team.

Segundo's home run came with one man on base and sailed high over the left field fence.

Rocky to Referee
BOSTON (UPI) —Former world heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will be the third man in the ring at Sargent Field, New Bedford, June 23, when former featherweight champion Willie Pep meets Pat McCoy.

$18,849 Low Bid for Traffic Signals in Village, Riverside

Low bid of $18,849 was submitted by Paul Gardner Corporation of Ontario, for installation of traffic signals and intersection lighting in the cities of Palm Springs and Riverside, Clyde V. Kane, district engineer of the State Division of Highways in San Bernardino.

Fred Eggers Co. of Bloomington, was second with a bid of $19,128, while the third low bid of $20,815 was received from Drury Electric of San Bernardino.

THE THREE BIDS received are being taken under advisement by C. M. Gillis, Director of Public Works.

In the City of Riverside traffic signals and intersection lighting will be installed on US Highway 60 (Eighth Street) at Chicago Avenue.

Palm Springs will have traffic signals and intersection lighting provided on State Sign Route 111 at Sunrise Way in the southeast section of the city. These signals will be full-traffic actuated with traffic on the two streets controlling the signals.

Kane said both of these installations are co-operative projects with the City and State sharing the costs.

Traffic will pass through the construction area at all times with as little delay and inconvenience as possible. The contractor will be allowed about nine weeks to complete all work in both cities.

Police Check Into Case of Missing Parrot

Police yesterday started investigating the possible kidnaping of a parrot from the home of Mrs. Eva L. Jadulung, 4325 Calle de Carlos.

After the initial investigation, police discounted the possible theft of the bird and reported that it had probably gotten out of its cage and flown away.

Humane officer Bill Mueller is now looking for the missing bird which was described as green with red-rimmed eyes, about eight inches tall and a type known as a "spectical."

CURITIBA, Brazil (UPI) — A Brazilian airliner carrying several prominent political figures to Rio de Janeiro crashed while attempting a landing here Monday night, killing 19 of the 27 persons aboard.

All of the survivors were injured, some of them seriously.

The dead included Nereu Ramos, a former provisional president of Brazil; Gov. Jorge Lacerda of Santa Catarina province and Leoberto Leal, a congressman. The three, all residents of Santa Catarina, boarded the plane in Florianopolis.

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Department of Public Works has added a special representation to its staff to keep the public happy with new highway locations.

Public Works Director C. M. Gillis said Monday that his agency had hired Fred Jacobson of Alameda, a former Chamber of Commerce executive, to keep the department and the state Highway Commission "in close touch with the citizens of California."
